

We are learning to think Christianly . . . seeing all of life and making decisions against the backdrop of God’s Word.

What should I do? What is best?	What shouldn't I do? What is okay?
Am I loving others unselfishly, with their best interests in mind?	What do I have to do?
In whatever I do, think, say, and feel, am I glorifying God?	How far is too far to go physically? How far is too far emotionally?

What is a date?

Who should I date? In general? Not name specific.
